Barcelona, 31 Jan 2023 - Televic Conference is pleased to announce, on the first day of ISE 2023, that it has acquired the Unite product range from beyerdynamic.

Unite is a DECT-based wireless communication system that strengthens Televic Conference's current offering by adding wireless presenting, mobile interpretation and language distribution capabilities. The Unite product range allows Televic Conference to expand into areas such as guided tours and assistive listening for people with hearing loss. "We welcome Unite to Televic Conference. The product acquisition further supports our growth ambitions to be the worldwide reference in each of our niche markets," says Thomas Verstraeten CEO of Televic Group. "Televic stands for innovative and high-quality products and systems, the Unite range complements our DNA perfectly."

Bart Deschodt, General Manager of Televic Conference explains: "With the acquisition of Unite, as well as recent audio enhancements in our conference offering, our mission of 'creating better understanding one meeting at a time' expands from formal meetings into any other type of meeting. The Unite solution enables bi-directional communication and understanding where many alternatives are only one-directional. This drastically improves effective communication."

Unite will enable Televic Conference to offer end customers even more application possibilities than before. Being called the 'Swiss army knife of wireless communication', Unite's versatile communication system offers flexible solutions for a wide variety of applications. Televic's existing interpretation and infrared solutions are well complemented with Unite's user-friendly DECT solution. The Unite handheld microphone further strengthens the current FLEX, D-Cerno, and uniCOS conference range. Further, the sleek and modern look of Unite fits the award-winning product design of the overall Televic Conference range.

"We are pleased and confident that our beyerdynamic Unite range has found the perfect company that is sure to give Unite a promising future. As a German traditional manufacturer of superior audio solutions, with nearly a century of experience, it was of the utmost importance for us to find a reputable partner for Unite – the digital communication system, who upholds and furthers the same commitment to quality for Unite's customers," adds Edgar van Velzen, CEO of beyerdynamic.

Jurgen Van Muylder, Sales and Marketing Director EMEA adds "We hear great feedback about the Unite range from rental companies across the globe. We are looking forward to continuing the support of Unite to these companies and other existing customers. This will also enable us to offer a comprehensive extension of their current systems to fully address their needs."
